

Aptsource has begun a dedicated ODC involved in offshore development project for US customer, iPipeline, under collaborative development model in agile development support environment.

iPipeline provides insurance companies, wholesalers, banks and broker-dealers with secure web-based marketing and point-of-sale systems to increase premium and drive agent adoption. iPipeline's systems support multiple distribution channels in the annuity, life, disability and long-term care insurance markets. These systems are unique in that they already connect a network of over 850 BGA/MGAs, banks and broker dealers with over 125 insurance companies.

Aptsource's offshore engineers are currently engaged in providing support to iPipeline's Quote Management System.